

Pitchboard

My website is about me. It has a home section and an about section, with pictures describing my life on the main page. It also has additional text for each picture describing my life, such as saying how I chose MSU out of 3 colleges. I am part of Information & Society sector, and how I play the Nintendo Switch in my free time. In the about section, I have a summary of the home text on top. I also have text describing my field of Information Science, with a head shot photo of myself at the bottom.
